APPLICATION GUIDELINE

'Ringing' will occur with each stroke of the press, deforming the material

POSSIBLE SOLUTION
Adjust stroke length to enter into the die a maximum of 2mm

A portion of the punch is broken off in the material

'Compressive Failure' occurs when the compressive strength of the punch has been exceeded and the entire working end shatters. This is caused by attempting to punch extremely hard or thick materials. This could also be caused by complete misalignment of punch and die.

A loose coupling nut, worn punch stem or coupling nut will cause head to fracture

POSSIBLE SOLUTION
Re-tighten coupling nut after the first several hits and periodically throughout the day

When punching mild steel 3mm or thicker, the side of the slug will be dished. The periphery of the slug will be shiny or sheared, for a distance of 10% to 20% of the material thickness

The punch side will have the center point indentation and a slight burr

Double shear indicates not enough clearance between punch and die

increase die clearance

Heavy burr on the side of material indicates too much clearance between punch and die

POSSIBLE SOLUTION
Decrease die clearance

Uneven burr indicates worn tools or misalignment.

POSSIBLE SOLUTION
Check alignment and condition of die

10.3 Work and/or service carried out on the Goods by anyone other than the Supplier and/or their nominated agents shall make the warranty null and void unless the Customer obtains prior approval from the Supplier before any remedial work is carried out.

10.4 The Supplier reserves the right to make null and void the warranty should the Goods be modified, altered, damaged or put to any undue stress other than in the way the Goods were designed to perform.

10.5 The Customer shall indemnify the Supplier from any warranty connected to the sharpening services provided to the Customer by the Supplier or their agent. The Supplier warrants only that the sharpening service will be performed to manufacturers' specifications.

13. LIABILITY

13.1 Non-excludable Rights

The parties acknowledge that, under applicable State and Commonwealth law, certain conditions and warranties may be implied in these Terms and Conditions and there are rights and remedies conferred on the Customer in relation to the provision of the Goods or of services which cannot be excluded, restricted or modified by the Agreement ("Non-excludable Rights").

13.2 Disclaimer of Liability

The Supplier disclaims all conditions and warranties expressed or implied, and all rights and remedies conferred on the Customer, by statute, the common law, equity, trade, custom or usage or otherwise and all those conditions and warranties and all those rights and remedies are excluded other than any Non-excludable Rights. To the extent permitted by law, the liability of the Supplier for a breach of a Non-Excludable Right is limited, at the Supplier's option, to the supplying of the Goods and/or any services again or payment of the cost of having the Goods and/or services supplied again.

13.3 Indirect Losses

Notwithstanding any other provision of these Terms and Conditions, the Supplier is in no circumstances (whatever the cause) liable in contract, tort including without limitation, negligence or breach of statutory duty or otherwise to compensate the Customer for:

- (a) any increased costs or expenses;
- (b) any loss of profit, revenue, business, contracts or anticipated savings;
- (c) any loss or expense resulting from a claim by a third party; or
- (d) any special, indirect or consequential loss or damage of any nature whatsoever caused by the Supplier's failure to complete or delay in completing the Order or to deliver the Goods.

13.4 Force Majeure

The Supplier will have no liability to the Customer in relation to any loss, damage or expense caused by the Supplier's failure to complete the Order or to deliver the Goods as a result of fire, flood, tempest, earthquake, riot, civil disturbance, theft, crime, strike, lockout, breakdown, war, the inability of the Supplier's normal suppliers to supply necessary material or any other matter beyond the Supplier's control.

14. PRIVACY

14.1 The Customer hereby authorises the Supplier to collect, retain, record, use and disclose personal information about the Customer, in accordance with the Privacy Act 1988, to persons and/or legal entities who are a Solicitor or any other professional consultant engaged by the Supplier, a Debt Collector, Credit Reference Organisation and/or any other individual or organisation which maintains credit references and/or default listings.

14.2 The Customer also authorises the Supplier to make enquiries with respect to the Customer's credit worthiness; to exchange information with other Credit Providers in respect to previous defaults of the Customer and to notify other Credit Providers of a default by the Customer.

15. GENERAL MATTERS

15.1 Severability

Any provision in these Terms and Conditions which is invalid or unenforceable in any jurisdiction must be read down for the purposes of that jurisdiction, if possible, so as to be valid and enforceable. If that provision cannot be read down then it is capable of being severed to the extent of the invalidity or unenforceability without affecting the remaining provisions of these Terms and Conditions or affecting the validity or enforceability of that provision in any other jurisdiction.
